who are instrumental in its administration. In this way a person or a group of persons will not be participating in some phase of recreation because they have been asked or have been railroaded to do so by the Recreation Director or some Recreation authority. They will be participating of their own free will and because they are enthusiastic about promoting a certain activity.

The most important thing for us all to remember is that the individual groups within the community are the essence of the public and tax supported recreation program. Without these groups public recreation has no purpose of existence whatsoever. These groups should be given a free hand to organize, no more and carry out activities of their choice with the assistance of and with the aid of a properly coordinated public recreation program. Then Recreation will be serving its true purpose, that of the enjoyable, satisfying and constructive use of leisure time.

Lutheran Church News

The Ladies Aid of St. Andrew's Lutheran Church met in the church basement April 15th with a good turn out.

Devotion was led by the Pastor from the Adult Instruction manual. Lesson number two was studied. With the leading "What Does The Bible Say About Itself".

Hospital visitors for May will be Kay Blich, Edith, Hagman, Doreen Lauder, Elsie MacNeil and Anne Marie Nickel.

Rex Burrows captured the Club Championship of the Chess Club. The defeated Bill Sandstrom in a long match that did not go the full 10 moves. With the Club Championship goes the Carling Trophy and mementoes donated by Carling's.

Dr. H. Shindshel with Fay Schaefer, Grant Schaefer and Susan Shindshel captured the Mixed Club Championship in a grueling battle against the Carling Trophy and mementoes donated by Carling's.

"B" event was won by Gary Bannard, with Fay Cooperman, Bill Cooperman and Glenda Bannard, the rink beat Hedie Janssen in the final.

"C" event was won by Ken Landers with Phyllis Landers and young R. Bookers, the rink won over Grant Cooperman.

The Ladies Curling Club will be going all out in the decoration of the rink for ROCK A-RAMA 65 the theme for the event will be "Zamba Zamba Modern Jungle. To come and see the decorations will be worth the price admission.

The M.C. for the Rock A-RAMA has brought in from the depths of South Africa to go along with the theme of Zamba Zamba. His name is Dingo Kanga Sambo. He will bring along some of his sisters who will help in the Car Draw, there names are Zamba, Zamba, and Zamba. It will be hilarious to see exactly who these people are.

The Club are bringing in some folk singers to entertain the guests from 8:00 till 9:00. Known as the Blue Ridge Singers they feature Barry Cooper and Corie Thorneill.

Dancing will begin at 9:00 on the 21st of May. See you there.

qualifying cooperation.

On Wednesday the 21st April a visit by Diversified Investment Ltd., an exporting interest in building a Nursing Home here, examined various possible locations and again for the same reason, selected the heavy Park 22 on the south side of 40th Avenue between 40th and 48th, Street, at second choice. A number of people will require solutions in either location before final regulations are possible.

Considerable time has been spent by the various representatives of the Drayton Valley District of Commerce to finalize the project of a Nursing Home for the Drayton Valley District.

Expressions of Public Opinion have been received both for and against the proposed location.

This is an excellent opportunity to see democracy in action, the people of Drayton Valley are asked if they have any opinions to express then now or forever hold them.

Expressions of opinion previously in writing can be made to President of the Chamber of Commerce or to the Mayor of the Town of Drayton Valley.

has of the second group will give an exhibition of more advanced gymnastics including, tumbling, routine exercises and pyramids.

The show is being sponsored by the Drayton Valley Athletic Association. Admission fees will be 50¢ for adults, 25¢ for students and free admission for children of twelve years of age and younger.

You are all invited to attend this exceptionally fine display of gymnastics. Ladies, Varsity and Minors will be taking part. Long hours of work into the preparation of this event and have established a very high level which we are all proud. All those attending Thursday night will certainly witness an excellent gymnastic display.

Completion of the David Thompson-Howse Pass route will put Drayton Valley squarely between one of the major trade and travel arteries between interior and northern Alberta and interior B.C. and the West Coast. When this highway is completed we may look for an early completion of the Banff to Nordberg cut-off route by the Alberta Government.

Klondike Kamps Carnival Committee Designs Program

Big things are in the offing for latter part of the first full week of June when the Alberta White Water Canoe Race will bring attention of the entire continent to this section of Alberta. Scheduled for July 8th, 9th and 10th, the Canoe Race will start in Rocky Mountain House on the morning of July 8th, tie up in Drayton Valley that night and the next morning will take off again on the second leg of their journey. The trip from R.M.H. to Drayton Valley is 40 miles, the trip to Devon from D.V. is 70 miles and the last part of the trip Devon to Edmonton is 20 miles.

Drayton Valley's active Chamber of Commerce are planning a huge reception and campers festival for July 8th and 9th on the river-bank, where some sixty acres have been leased. It is expected that this event will become as nationally famous as the Calgary Stampede in the future, and pointed that this event will become a permanent place, probably by use of other occasions as well as the Canoe Race.

Names selected for the event, insofar as Drayton Valley is concerned, is Klondike Kamps Carnival. It will precede the Edmonton Klondike Days committee. The momentum of the race by members of the official Klondike Kamps Carnival committee. Drayton Valley Chamber of Commerce committee has been selected to head up the various activities of this major event of the summer season. Klondike Kamps Carnival committee head Wayne Schmidt, local representative of the accounting firm of Oullman, Stuart and Rice. He will head a commit team of some ten or twelve members, assisted by Chamber of Commerce president Al Braden.

Early Start On Howse Pass Road Expected

Drayton Valley's future economic boom got another shot in the arm recently with the announcement that the B.C. Government is now starting to tend a very friendly ear to proposals for an early completion of the short cut Howse Pass route.

Much quiet behind-the-scenes work has been done with B.C.'s students, Klondike Days, Gardiner, and the Klondike to now ready to complete that the route would benefit B.C. as well as Alberta.

The federal government is a body committed to their share of the work in getting the highway through the scenic and short-cut route to the Coast. Howse Pass and the Alberta Government has long since been committed to their portion of the task, and are carrying it out. In their David Thompson Highway project.

Completion of the David Thompson-Howse Pass route will put Drayton Valley squarely between one of the major trade and travel arteries between interior and northern Alberta and interior B.C. and the West Coast. When this highway is completed we may look for an early completion of the Banff to Nordberg cut-off route by the Alberta Government.

DISTRICT PERSONALITIES

WAYNE V. SCHMIDT was born in Lacombe, where his father was farming. The family moved to Edmonton while Wayne was quite young and his father went into business for the city. Young Wayne completed his schooling in Edmonton and then attended with a firm of chartered accountants. In 1961 he joined the firm of Oullman and Stuart.

Early this year his firm decided to set up a full-time office in Drayton Valley and Wayne was sent out to head up the Drayton Valley office.

Early on arrival here he was selected for two or three quite important positions relating to Chamber of Commerce activities. One was the teaching of one of the classes sponsored by the Chamber for Management Accounting, and the other was an even larger job. Heading up the Chamber committee that will put on the huge Klondike Kamps Carnival at the time of the Boat Races in July.

Mr. Schmidt married the former Miss Sophie Fraden, of Edmonton. Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt are living in Drayton Valley and are getting acquainted with older-settled residents. They both expect to be happy and quite busy in this aggressive and bustling town.

BASEBALL CLINIC

BASEBALL CLINIC - A clinic will be held for Baseball Coaches on Sunday May 8, in the Recreation Office. The clinic program has been finalized. The program will open at 1:00 p.m. and close around 5:00 p.m.

The instructors for this clinic will be Doug Barnes, Ken Machan, George Lecky and the Recreation Director. The topics to be covered are the philosophy of coaching baseball, introduction to the basics of baseball, fielding, pitching, base running and catching, positional play and a very brief discussion on the rules of the game.

A number of students from Uganda and Southern Rhodesia visited Drayton Valley Elementary School last week. The reason for the selection of Drayton Valley Elementary School was that it was one of the largest non-city elementary schools in the province. The students have just finished taking an eight-month "refresher" course at University of Alberta and are returning to their homes in Africa. The girls in the picture are all from Uganda, while the men are from Southern Rhodesia. Seen with the group is Principal and Mrs. John Gray, and a number of teachers from the local Elementary School. The visiting men teachers are Deputy Principals, and all experienced teachers. The group was accompanied by Miss Jean Robertson, of the University of Alberta. Miss Robertson has just completed her Ph.D. work and will be the U. of A. faculty next year. Also accompanying the group was Dr. Tom Wardlaw, of the U. of A. faculty.

The Chapel Hour

God and Our Pleasures

And they began to be merry. It was meet that we should make merry and be glad. — St. Luke 15:32,33.

By Rev. J. D. MacLeod

THE quest for pleasure is everywhere in evidence today, so much so that many regard it as being more of a liability than an asset. Both within and without the Christian Church there are those who follow upon what are commonly known as pleasures, and who would ascribe laughter and merriment to an almost forbidden degree.

But such an attitude finds no warrant in the great Book of Life. Its pages, though solemn in nature, are illuminated by stories and precepts which elicit the lighter strains of human nature, and point to the divinely planned and rounded life. This is well illustrated in that familiar parable of the Prodigal Son; it would be hard to find anywhere a story that better states the possible attitude toward the problem of pleasure. The contrast between two sons of a certain father is clearly drawn.

There is the elder brother, honest and hardworking and well thought of in the community. Nothing was further from his mind than to take time out for play or merriment of any kind. And there was the younger brother, who, it would seem, could think of nothing but play and having a good time. Determined to gain this, he threw discretion to the wind and went out to a life of adventure. Sadly he discovered his choice was a very costly one, and how easy it was for pleasure to deteriorate into dissipation.

The contrast between the brothers in their attitudes to life is well shown by a third party in the story, the father of the sons.

When the wanderer came to himself and returned home penitent, the happy father ran out to meet him, summoned the musicians and ordered a bounteous feast. "It is meet that we should make merry and be glad," he said, as the family was united.

The Joy of God Revealed

In the parable our Lord discloses His point of view of life's pleasures. We may be sure that with Him wholesome play would be accepted as an essential part of the life abundant; that pleasure has its legitimate, and indeed, necessary place in human affairs. This is part of God's plan for all. Christ is revealed as a man of joy, taking delight in the healthy activities of life, and praying that His joy might remain in His followers.

Dr. S. W. Hughes, presiding at a church convention in England, said: "The Saviour of the world claims dominion over the whole of life. We cannot win the world for Him by conceding whole areas to the devil. For Christians to have nothing to do with the amusements of life and its recreational activities, is to do that very thing."

As adequate standard of judgment is needed in all matters of right and wrong in life, and that will be found in a conscience touched by Christian spirit. This will carry into the pleasures and play-life of those who would be guided. Even in the smaller choices it will not fail.

There is a story about a deacon who frequently asked his wife if she thought his collar was clean enough for another wearing. Without even looking at the collar, she would reply, "John, if it is doubtful, it is not clean enough."

True happiness is one of the elements God has woven into life. It comes as a result of His spirit within. It is a legacy which He bequeathed in the Christ of the Beatitudes and His frequent prayers that His joy might abide in all who know Him.

YE DID IT UNTO ME

One of Tolstoy's stories tells of a cobbler who was downcast and bitter because all those whom he loved had been taken from him. A priest advised him that he would find comfort in the Bible, and so, the cobbler began to read it—reluctantly at first, and then with more and more interest, until one day he heard the Lord speaking to him.

Christ told him that He would visit him on the morrow, and when the next day dawned the cobbler was all ready for his Guest with an extra plate and cup all ready on the table. But the only people who visited the cobbler that day were a tramp out of work, a housewife at odds with the world, and a young mother and her baby with no home or friends. Each of these the cobbler invited inside, and he helped them all.

At the end of the day he looked at the cup and the plate that had been laid for Christ, and used by the old man and the two women, and he said, half aloud, "He never came."

But then the Lord spoke to him again, and told him that He was the tramp, and the old lady, and the young mother. "Inasmuch as ye did it unto the least of these my brethren, ye did it unto Me."

THE BIBLE TODAY

"I challenge you to make great plans, ask you to make great dedication—to challenge the big men of Canada and the many humble men, to enlist in this Bible Society cause in Canada for the world," stated an Australian on a recent visit to this country.

At the Annual General Meeting of the Canadian Bible Society, the guest speaker was the Rev. Canon H. M. Arrowsmith, the General Secretary of The British and Foreign Bible Society in Australia.

He spoke of translation work in New Guinea as well as other parts of the world. Three thousand people are presently engaged in translation work in 100 languages under the Society's auspices. 122 languages have at least one book of the Scriptures. The whole Bible may be secured in only 235 tongues.

It was reported that one basic text in Greek and Latin is acceptable for all Christian church groups, and that it will be acceptable for all Roman Catholics.

The meeting was re-held that 20 of the 250 delegates, including 10 from Africa and South America as linked with the Bible
